Background Information

Travis William Schoenbeck, born March 4, 1975, was the grandson of Walter Schoenbeck, a deceased member of American Legion Post 75. Travis graduated from Fox High School in St. Louis, Missouri, and his ambition was to earn a college degree in business management. He tragically died as the result of an automobile accident on September 10, 1995. In his memory, American Legion Auxiliary Unit 75 established this scholarship for the purpose of assisting individuals associated with Post 75 with their own college education. It has been an honor to provide each successive generation the opportunity to achieve their dreams.

This scholarship will be paid directly to the college, university, technical or trade school where the recipient is enrolled.

The Education Committee reserves the right to verify financial eligibility with your college of choice.

If chosen and you subsequently receive a full scholarship from another source, this award will go to the first alternate.
